UNIT 7 People of the world

Reading Old customs in the modern world

People live in all parts of the world. Most people live in towns and cities but other people live in remote areas, hundreds of kilometres from the nearest city. They live on high mountains. They live in small villages and in snowy forests. They keep animals for food. They make their clothes and houses from natural materials. Their customs are different to people who live in large towns and cities because they do not need lots of cars and lorries. They do not use much electricity or water.
