Russell Stannard is the founder of www.teachertrainingvideos.com. He was awarded the Times Higher 'Outstanding Initiative in ICT' in 2008 and the British Council 'Technology ELTons' in 2010 for his work in using technology in language teaching. He writes regular columns about technology in English Teaching Professional and The Teacher Trainer. His website receives more than 300,000 visitors a year and more than 22,000 subscribe to his newsletter. He is a regular speaker at conferences and events all over the world.

This course will cover some or all of the following aspects:

- Principles and practice of blending learning
- The role of technology inside and outside the classroom in blended learning
- Language development and content knowledge in blended learning approaches
- Platforms and content for language learner and teachers development
- Activities, exercises, tasks and projects in blended learning approaches
- Effective use of multimedia and Web 2.0 tools in language learner and teacher education

What approach is used?

- Classes will be practical and 'hands-on', but with reference to relevant theory
- Courses are participant-centred involving tasks providing memorable learning contexts
- Tasks will be used to illustrate the key course objectives through procedure and content
- Time will be built into the course for reflection and for participants to consider how to adapt ideas from the course to classrooms in their own professional contexts
