

Ice Cream SOS

Written by Peter Rees

Illustrated by Cinzah Merkens

My family says I tell silly stories.
They never believe me when crazy things happen!

My craziest adventure happened when we went to the beach.

“Jack, how about you get us all some ice cream,” said Dad.

I jumped up from my sand castle.
“You can count on me, Dad!” I replied.
I grabbed the money and headed to the snack stand.

I ordered four ice creams with sprinkles, nuts and chocolate sauce.

“Hurry! It’s hot today!” said the ice cream man.

“I’m fast!” I boasted.

This is when everything went wrong. The road was crowded with runners in a race.

I tried to walk around, but I could not get through!

I had to run the race.

