

A long time ago, out on the grassy plains of the Wild West, there lived a brave cowboy called Rex Rodeo. Rex was the biggest, strongest and kindest cowboy in the whole town of Lucky River.

Let me help you with these cows, Mrs Green.

Thank you, Rex.

Rex rode his horse faster than the wind. He caught wild buffalo with his rope. He herded one thousand cows by himself and he helped everyone in the town.

Cowboy Rex was in love with Annie, the mayor's daughter. Annie was beautiful and intelligent, and Rex wanted to marry her.

We will have to ask my father.

I hope he says 'yes'.

But Annie's father, Mayor Milton, was a mean and greedy man who only loved gold.

We want to get married, father.

Are you rich, Rex?

No, I'm poor.