CICHO to the world Studenth Digital

Student's Book with Digital Student's Book

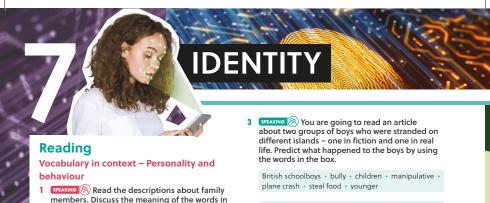

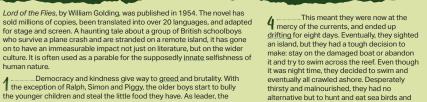

Amanda French Andrea Langton with David Spencer

Still, this discovery hardly meant there were no further challenges to face. During the summer it barely rained, meaning the boys had little to drink. They managed to make a raft, only to see it smashed up on the reef. Then one of the boys, Fatai, fell off a cliff and broke his leg. Showing incredible resourcefulness and skill, the hove from Tonga were able to perfectly reset the bone with sticks and leaves.

...Kolo even created a crude guitar from driftwood, a coconut, and wires salvaged from their wrecked boat. He would play this every evening and the other boys would sing to keep their spirits up. In the end friendship, teamwork and faith kept the boys from falling into despair and ensured their survival on the island. It is a story that will be remembered for many years to come.

A Rather than treating each other unfairly, they were compassionate. Instead of hoarding food, they distributed it equally. There was no abuse of power and disputes were settled in an honourable manner.

new book, Humankind, by Rutger Bregman.

Lord of the Flies, by William Golding, was published in 1954. The novel has for stage and screen. A haunting tale about a group of British schoolboys who survive a plane crash and are stranded on a remote island, it has gone on to have an immeasurable impact not just on literature, but on the wider the exception of Ralph, Simon and Piggy, the older boys start to bully egomaniacal Jack becomes increasingly manipulative and cruel so he can hold on to power. Today, 'it was like a scene from Lord of the Flies' is still a behaving in an inherently good and altruistic way towards each other, speaks to our hearts. A highly inspiring story to recently emerge is that of six resilient young boys, now men, from Tonga who went missing in 1965.

Like the boys in Lord of the Flies, Tevita David Siola'a, Sione Fataua, Luke marooned on an uninhabited island, but that is where the similarity ends.

Veikoso, Fatai Stephen Latu, Kolo Fekitoa and Sione Mano Filipe Totau were customary for young Tongans to be raised with the understanding that they

was a great shock for the boys' families when they were informed their sons were still alive after having been missing for 15 long months. In fact, by the for them. Since then, their story has been shared many times in Tonga, but now their epic experience is being brought to the attention of the world in a time the boys were found and brought home, funerals had already been held are part of a community and that they should put other people first. But it the younger children and steal the little food they have. As leader, the comment used to describe wild and unruly behaviour.

.Democracy and kindness give way to greed and brutality. With

That's why any true story of humans facing adversity and still

No Tongan would be surprised at this kind of selfless behaviour as the idea of 'everyone for themself' clashes with their cultural values. It is

- B This becomes clearer as the days pass and hope of rescue fades. Although the younger boys resent being told what to do by the older ones, they agree that a raft must be built and set off in search of wood.
- C It is most often applied to scenes of chaos amongst children. However, the dark suspicion that adults might behave the same self-serving way in similar circumstances when order is no longer imposed, is one that many of us find hard to shake.
- D This wasn't their only remarkable achievement. They managed to set up a basic food garden in the poor soil, and carve out tree trunks so that they could store the little rainwater that fell in the hollows. They kept their fire burning and stuck to a duty roster.

- E At the beginning of the story, once the boys realise there are no adults to supervise them, they attempt to 'stick to the law' and act with decency. But as time goes on, relationships and behaviour deteriorate.
- Regaining a little strength from these meagre rations. they used their bare hands to dig out a shelter in the sea cliff. After resting here for three months, and desperate to find other resources, they managed to climb up to the island's volcanic crater. To their relief, they came upon taro and banana plants, as well as a population of feral chickens.
- G Bored with the routine and terrible food at their strict boarding school, the boys apparently decided to sneak off, take a fishing vessel, and see whether they could sail all the way to Fiji. Unfortunately, they soon ran into trouble when the mast was snapped in high winds and the rudder broke off.

Unit 7

11/11/2021 18:33

Reach higher page 139

Gateway C1 SB 3p.indb 85

HUMAN NATURE: WHAT DOES IT TAKE TO SURVIVE?

Grammar in context 1 =

Passive constructions

- la Look at the sentences and identify the passive tenses.
- a This will be remembered for many years to come.
- b Lord of the Flies was published in 1954.
- c They agree that a raft must be built and set off in search of wood.
- d By the time the boys were found, funerals had already been held for them.
- e Ironically, in the novel, the boys were being flown away from danger when their plane
- f The novel has been translated into over 20 languages.
- g Lord of the Flies is often used as a parable for the innate selfishness of human nature.
- h Their epic experience is being brought to the attention of the world in a new book.
- i The younger boys resent being told what to do.
- j It is customary for young Tongans to be raised with the understanding that they are part of a community.

1b Answer the questions.

In which sentence(s) in 1a ..

- 1 is it obvious who the agent is?
- 2 is the agent 'people in general'?
- 3 is the agent unknown or unimportant?

- 🗹	Chec	k it	page	9
-----	------	------	------	---

2 Rewrite the active sentences as passive sentences.

- 1 What can people do to prevent fake news being believed?
- 2 The lifequards had already rescued them by the time we arrived
- 3 The press tried to interview the survivors, but they
- The survivors refused ...
- 4 People all over the world were following the story. The story
- 5 We hope that people will continue to tell this story.
- 6 No one rescued the boys until a year after they were
- The boys 7 Psychologists are carrying out some research into how people behave in survival situations.
- 8 He doesn't like it when people ask him about the time he got lost up a mountain.
 - He doesn't like ...

Some research.

Causatives

- 3a Look at the sentences. Which sentence isn't a causative? What is the difference in meaning between that sentence and the others?
- a Bregman had/got an extract from his book about the Tongan boys published by a newspaper
- b Bregman got a newspaper to publish an extract from his book.
- c Bregman had published an extract from his
- d Bregman had a newspaper publish an extract from his book.
- 3b Match the causative sentences in 3a to the structures 1-3.
- 1 have + agent + infinitive without to + object
- 2 have/get + object + past participle (+ by + agent)
- 3 get + agent + infinitive with to + object

Check it page 94

4 Complete the sentences with the correct causative form with have or get and the verbs in the box.

clean • cut • decorate • deliver • install • make • renair • send

- 1 Do you want to come over and see my room? I _____it ____last week and it looks amazingl
- 2 When my sister was in Thailand on holiday, she a fabulous dress tailor
- 3 Sometimes at weekends we a takeaway, just for a treat.
-mv mobile phone ... 4 |..... moment, so I can't call or text you.
-new wi-fi ... 5 We need Our current system isn't working well at all.
- 6 Your hair always looks great! Where it
- 7 If you miss the lesson a classmateyou the homework.
- 8 When we moved wea professionalour house. company ..

page 139

Use it ... don't lose it!

5 SPEAKING (2) Imagine you are a billionaire. Write sentences using the causative to say what you would have done or what you would get people to do for you. Then share your sentences with the class.

Reach higher

Developing vocabulary —

Expressions with self

1 Read the definitions and complete the compound nouns with self with the words in the box.

deprecation • doubt • esteem • expression • indulgence • preservation

1 the feeling of not having confidence in yourself or your abilities self-

2 ways of conveying your feelings and ideas, for example through painting, writing or acting

3 the practice of allowing yourself to have or to do something special that you like very much, often something that you shouldn't have or do

4 the feeling that you are as important as other people and that you deserve to be treated well

5 the wish to stay alive and to protect yourself from things that might hurt you

6 making your achievements or abilities seem less important self-...

2 Choose the correct word to complete these phrases with self. Check the meaning of any you don't know in the dictionary.

1 Welcome! Come in and ... vourself at home. a create b do c feel

2 In the evening I like to put my headphones on and ... myself in music. a lose b find c disappear d see

3 Jorge is quite shy - at college he tends to himself to himself.

a find b keep c stay 4 When I was younger, I used to be ... up in myself – I behaved as if no one else was important a wrapped b folded c turned d bound 5 After being ill for so long, she was a of her former self.

a person b shade c shadow d version 6 If you're feeling a little lost, you should meditate toyourself again.

a shape b acquire c find d define 7 You don't ... yourself today. Are you sure you're feeling OK?

a see b look c sound d appear 8 He is so _____of himself and thinks he is very important. It's annoying!

a true b bold c confident d full

3 Complete the text with the correct form of the expressions in the box. There are two extra expressions that you don't need.

be a shadow of your former self . keep yourself to yourself • make yourself at home • self-deprecating • self-doubt • self-esteem • self-expression • self-indulgence

Culture exchange

Truly British habits?

The British fondness for dunking biscuits in tea is not merely enjoying the little pleasures in life as well as a bit of, but, according to (a) an article in the magazine Country Living that lists our top-ten habits and traits, biscuit dunking is the number-one thing that makes people really and truly British.

Next on the list is avoiding sitting next to someone on public transport. While it may be true that many British people do like (b) this is also true in other countries. A more obvious trait perhaps is what many foreigners perceive as an unusual way of dressing, but that Brits would prefer to call a desire for (c) showing their personality.

Also, British people have a strong tendency to be overpolite (number six on the list), are obsessed with queuing (number three), and step awkwardly from side to side when trying to walk past someone (number eight). Number four on the list is apologising for everything. Does this mean that British people are full of (d) think they are always in the wrong? Or is it a sian of low (e)and a lack of confidence?

Like all stereotypes, there is a grain of truth in some of these things, but most of them are probably outdated. However, some things on the list, like eating chips with gravy (number five) and eating fry-ups for breakfast (number seven) will never change. So, if you are planning a visit to Britain and truly want to (f) a biscuit and get dunking.

Collaborative project 4

page 109

Use it ... don't lose it!

SPEAKING (A) Which of the expressions in 1 and 2 can you use to describe yourself and people you know? Make notes and then compare your answers in pairs.

Reach higher

page 139

Unit 7

GREAT LEARNERS GREAT THINKERS

OUR MULTIPLE IDENTITIES

Lesson aim: To reflect on how we understand our own and other people's multiple identities

Video: Photography and cultural identity

SEL Social and emotional learning: Understanding people as individuals

- 1 SPEAKING (A) Ask and answer these questions.
 - 1 What are some of the aspects that make up your identity? Which aspects are most important to you? Which are less important?
 - 2 What assumptions do you think other people make about you when they first
 - 3 What aspects of other people's identities do you tend to notice first?
- 2 Wideo Natch a video about a London-based photography exhibition called Mixed Race Faces. What does the exhibition consist of and what are its main aims?
- 3 VIDEO (Watch the video again. Are these statements T (True) or F (False)?
 - 1 Natalie has mixed Asian and European heritage.
 - 2 The organiser of the exhibition started out by photographing strangers T/F in the street
 - 3 According to census data, around 5% of the British population identifies as mixed race.
 - 4 Jonathan appreciates having the opportunity to discuss the feelings he's had for a long time.
 - 5 The organiser has always viewed her experience of living in different countries in a positive way.
- 4 SPEAKING (A) Read the text and answer the questions.
- 1 Why do we tend to sort objects into categories, according to the article?
- 2 Why can't we categorise people in the same way?

WHY DO WE CATEGORISE PEOPLE?

Our brains are wired to try to make complex things simple When we're presented with a list of random objects - say, 'apple, pencil, banana, T-shirt, ruler, hat, socks' – we'll quickly sort those objects into categories. This tendency to categorise objects is, of course, extremely useful. In a world fraught with complexity and ambiguity, it enables us to rapidly process information and make sense of what's around us. However, this process of categorisation becomes much more problematic when we attempt to apply it to other human beings

When we think about ourselves or anyone that we know well, we can see that trying to define an individual's identity through simplistic labels defies common sense. None of us can be understood through our membership of any single group: it's clear that we all belong to many groups simultaneously. I'm not just a teenager, a student, an Arsenal supporter or a Londoner. I belong to all of those groups and to many others as well. It's equally obvious that the members of a group are different from each other, even if stereotypes may trick us into thinking otherwise. What's more, we can't possibly know which groups a person identifies with simply by looking at them. The colour of my skin is part of my identity but it doesn't tell you where I was born or grew up. It doesn't give you any reliable information about what I'm like as a person, what I like eating, what music I enjoy, or what I do in my free time. Neither does it reveal where I live or where I feel I most belong.

T/F

T/F

T/F

Human beings are not clothes, stationery and fruit: we can't be put into boxes and labelled. We're unique individuals. We're complex and multifaceted, constantly changing and endlessly fascinating, and in that sense at least, we're all

Share-Wait-Think-Discuss

- 5 SPEAKING (R) Follow the instructions in groups of three and follow this procedure.
- Reflect on the ideas in the text. What did you find interesting or thought-provoking? Why? What other questions does the text raise for you? Make notes.
- 2 One by one, share your ideas with your group.
- 3 Wait in silence and listen actively while the others are speaking. Don't interrupt! Think about what each person is saying.
- 4 Discuss all the ideas that you have shared. Make comments and ask questions about what other people said. What have you learned from listening to and talking to the other people in your group?
- 6 SPEAKING (A) The text in 4 discusses the way that our brains tend to categorise people into groups and use stereotypes to try to understand them. Why is this a problem? To what extent do you think we categorise ourselves as well as others? What can we do to overcome this tendency?

GREAT LEARNERS

Great learners try to understand people as individuals.

Why is it important to avoid making assumptions about people's identities based on appearances? What can we do to try to understand how other people think and feel? How can we help other people to understand our own identities?

Learner profile > page 143

Unit 7

Unit 7

Gateway C1 SB 3p.indb 88 11/11/2021 18:37

Listening =

1 SPEAKING (A) Do you take selfies? When? Do you post them on social media? Why/Why not?

Exam tip

In tasks where you have to match speakers to topics, the options in the task don't use the same words as the listening extracts. Before you listen, read the options and think about how they might be paraphrased.

- 2 Look at the exam tasks in 3. Read the options (a-h) in task 1 and think of ways of paraphrasing them. Then read the options (a-h) in task 2 and think of synonyms for the adjectives.
- 3 (1)38 You are going to listen to five people talking about taking selfies. Listen and complete both tasks.

Task one

For questions 1-5, choose from the list (a-h) the reason why each speaker takes/doesn't take selfies. There are three extra letters which you do not need to use.

- a to get more experience
- b to guide others
- c to show how damaging they are

Speaker 1 1 d to document change Speaker 2 2 e to mark an event Speaker 3 3

f to sell beauty products Speaker 4 4 Speaker 5 5 g to be part of the phenomenon h to avoid wasting time on trivial things

For questions 6-10, choose from the list (a-h) how each speaker feels about posting selfies. There are three extra letters which you do not need to use.

a worthless

Task two

b connected

Speaker 1 6 c angry Speaker 2 7 d frustrated Speaker 3 8 e rewarded Speaker 4 9 f emotionless Speaker 5 10

g cheerful h tolerant

Critical thinkers

In your opinion, why has taking selfies become so popular?

What makes you say that?

Grammar in context 2 •

Flipped classroom video Watch the Grammar Presentation video

Adding emphasis – cleft sentences

- 5a Read the pairs of sentences. Is there a difference in meaning between them? If so,
 - 1 a My best friend first had the idea.
 - b It was my best friend who first had the idea.
 - 2 a I take most selfies near my window.
 - b The place where I take most selfies is near my window.
 - 3 a I kept helping people because I enjoyed it.
 - b The reason (why) I kept helping people was that I enjoyed it.
 - 4 a It annoys me that some people spend hours every day taking selfies.
 - b The thing that most annoys me is that some people spend hours every day taking selfies.
 - 5 a The term 'selfie' is new.
 - b What is new is the term 'selfie'.

5b Answer the questions.

In which pair(s) does sentence b use ...

- a it as the subject?
- b what or all as the subject?
- c an expression to emphasise the place?
- d an expression to emphasise the topic?
- e an expression to emphasise the reason?
- an expression to emphasise the person?
 - Check it page 94
- 6 Rewrite the sentence so that it has a similar meaning but gives emphasis to the underlined part of the sentence. Use structures for cleft
- 1 Rachel uploaded the selfie.
- 2 I love hanging out on my balcony.
- 3 I enjoy posting selfies with my puppy because he's so cute.
- 4 It's so exciting that you've got over 1,000 followers.

Use it ... don't lose it!

- 7 SPEAKING (A) Complete the sentences with your own ideas. Then share your sentences.
 - 1 The place where ... 3 The reason I enjoy ...
 - 2 The person who ... 4 What I like most about ...

Reach higher

page 139

Developing speaking =

Discussing photos 2

1 SPEAKING (A) Look at the photos and the speaking task. Which two photos would you prefer to talk about? Why?

Compare two of the photos, and say what might be making the people happy in these pictures and how often moments like these occur.

- · What might be making the people happy in these photos?
- How often do moments like these occur?
- 2 (1) 39 Listen to a student doing the task in 1. Which two photos does he talk about?
- 3 (1) 39 Listen again and answer the questions.
 - 1 What does the student think might be making the people happy in the photos?
 - 2 What does he say about how often these moments occur?

4 Disten again. Which words and expressions in the Speaking bank does the student use?

Speaking bank

Using your own experience and knowledge to

- I've (never) been in that kind of situation myself, and/but ...
- Limagine that ...
- I think, from looking at (their faces) ...
- We can't say for sure what's going on, but ...
- It could be the case that ...
- That's the sort of scenario that you sometimes see ...
- Almost everyone will find themselves in this kind of

Exam tip

In tasks where you discuss photos, remember that you are being assessed on your grammatical and lexical range. Use a variety of phrases to describe and compare photos and to SPEAKING (A) Describe the photo in 1 that wasn't discussed in 2. Speculate about different scenarios using your own experience and knowledge and the expressions in the Speaking bank.

Grammar in context 3 =

Adding emphasis - auxiliary verbs

- 6 Look at the sentences and answer the questions.
- a Most people do only take school-leaving exams
- b I did feel really anxious on results day.
- c He does get very excited when they win.
- 1 What extra word has been added in each sentence to emphasise the verb?
- 2 How would you write each sentence without emphasising the verb?
- 3 What form of the main verb do we use when we use the auxiliary to add emphasis?

Check it page 94

- 7 Rewrite the sentences to add emphasis.
 - 1 People get excited about many things, actually.
- 2 I'm not very athletic but I enjoy swimming.
- 3 She makes me laugh a lot.
- 4 They passed their exams after all.
- 5 My grandad is retired now but he still does voluntary work.

Practice makes perfect

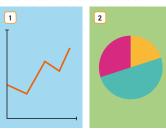

8 SPEAKING (A) Turn to page 149 and follow the instructions

Gateway C1 SB 3p.indb 91 11/11/2021 18:38

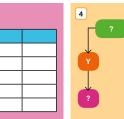

Developing writing =

Describing visual information

1 Look at the graphs and complete the sentences with the words in the box.

bar chart • diagram • flow chart • line graph • pie chart • table

- shows how a quantity changes over time.
- ... shows how something is divided into different categories.
- ... shows information in columns and rows for easier interpretation.
- shows how a process 4 A works and the different choices you can make.
- ... is a drawing that explains something.
- shows how different amounts compare with one another.

2 Read the text. What are the Big-Five personality traits? Describe the studies in your own words. What do you think will be the outcome of the comparison in the study?

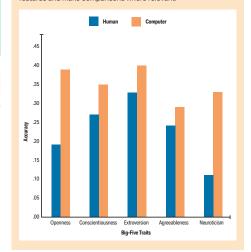

The Big-Five personality traits

Developed in the 1980s, the Big-Five personality traits describe five general aspects of people's character. They are sometimes referred to by their acronym OCEAN standing for openness, conscientiousness, extroversion, agreeableness and neuroticism. Recently, two studies have been carried out to assess to what extent a person's digital footprint can predict aspects of their personality. The assessments have been done by both humans and computers to compare which is more accurate.

- 3 Look at the bar chart and the task below and answer the
- 1 Which personality traits were computers more than twice as accurate at predicting than humans?
- 2 Which personality traits were humans only slightly less accurate at predicting than computers?
- 3 What is the main point of the bar chart, a or b?
 - a Computers are better than humans at predicting the Big-Five personality traits.
 - b Humans are nearly as good as computers at predicting most of the Big-Five personality traits.

The bar chart below shows the accuracy of computer algorithms in predicting the Big-Five personality traits based on a person's digital footprint, compared with the accuracy of human predictions.

Summarise the information by selecting and reporting the main features and make comparisons where relevant.

- 4 Read a student's answer for the task in 3 and answer the questions.
 - 1 Is the language semi-formal or informal?
 - 2 Does the description include every detail shown in the graph?
 - 3 What information is included in each paragraph?
 - 4 Does the writer provide personal opinions?
- 5 What tense is used most often? What other tenses

The bar chart evaluates and compares the accuracy of a computer compared with a human when predicting five major human personality traits.

Of the five traits looked at in the research, neuroticism, stands out from all of the others as being the characteristic that computers could predict much more accurately than humans. The graph shows that the computer, with an accuracy of almost 0.35, was almost three times as accurate as a human, with an accuracy rate of 0.12. A less dramatic, but still significant difference was recorded for openness. With an accuracy rate just under 0.40, the computer was twice as accurate as a human, which had an accuracy rate of 0.20. Conscientiousness, extroversion and agreeableness were predicted slightly more accurately by computers, but there was less of a difference. To sum up, all five of the personality traits were predicted more accurately by computers than by humans.

5 Look at the words and expressions in the Writing bank and check that you understand them all. Which are used in the answer in 4?

Writing bank

Describing statistics

- 5/10/15 percent/%
- · a quarter/a third/half/three-quarters of ...
- twice/three times the amount
- ... was (almost) two/three/ten/times as ...
- one in three/four/five
- the majority/minority of ...

Describing trends

- remain the same/change little
- fluctuate
- reach a high/peak/low
- a significant difference is ...
- there was less/more of a difference
- a (more/less) dramatic difference

Making comparisons

- slightly less than/considerably more than/markedly different from ...
- One figure/Something that stands out ... • One of the more notable changes was ...
- The ... are almost the same as/broadly similar to ...
- · The highest figure was for ...
- ... stands out as ...

Vocabulary - Describing data: synonyms

- 6 Look back at the text in 4 and find synonyms for these words and phrases.
- 1 important, large 5 is noticeable among
- 2 assesses 6 observed
- 3 a little 7 distinction
- 4 precisely
- 7 Complete the text with words and phrases from 4

Five characteristics were (1) in which a (2) ____number of people took part. To conclude, the computer was much better at predicting traits than humans were, and people were (3)less accurate than the algorithm. It was also (4)that the computer could predict some characteristics more (5) than others.

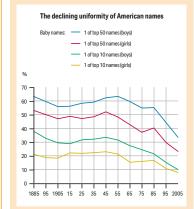

In writing tasks where you have to summarise the information in a graph or chart, summarise only the most important information and the main findings. This will give you more time to focus on using accurate language.

Practice makes perfect

8a Look at the line graph and do the task.

The line graph shows the declining uniformity in American boys' and girls' names since 1885. Summarise the information by selecting and reporting the main features and make comparisons where relevant.

Write around 150 words

8bWhen you finish your summary, use the Writing checklist on page 141 to check it.

Unit 7

Grammar reference

Passive constructions

be (in the appropriate form) + past participle The new gymnasium will be completed in mid-September. All of the chairs have been taken. You'll have to stand. The school hall is due to be refurbished next year.

To focus on the action, or its effects, rather than the agent (the person or thing) doing it.

The agent is often unmentioned if:

- it is obvious who the agent is. A man has been arrested (by the police).
- · their identity is unknown or unimportant. They were given name badges before the conference.
- · we would rather not mention them. I was told that you were angry with me.

However, if we want to mention the agent, we use the

The museum has been visited by 30,000 tourists so far.

We may also use a passive form if the agent or subject of the verb is a long phrase.

She was interviewed by the head of the French department at the university.

Passive infinitives and gerunds

Certain verbs such as like, dread and imagine are followed by a gerund. In the passive voice, they need a passive gerund (being + past participle).

Can you imagine being chosen to star in a film?

Adjectival phrases, which are normally followed by an infinitive with to, need a passive infinitive (to be + past participle).

The documents were too sensitive to be made public. My mother was disappointed not to be offered the job.

Modal verbs require the passive infinitive without to (be + past participle).

Passports must be handed in at reception upon arrival.

Causatives

To talk about actions that are done for the subject of the sentence rather than by the subject.

Have and get can both be used as causative verbs.

In these sentences, have is slightly more formal than get. The town council had the public library rebuilt last year. I get my eyes tested once a year.

The agent can be included in the sentence either directly after the causative verb or by using the preposition by. He got me to change / had me change it.

They had/got their house repainted by professionals.

Adding emphasis - cleft sentences

To add emphasis or give extra importance to one part of a sentence, we can use cleft sentences. We use:

• The ... + is/was to emphasise the thing/person/place/

The thing that I love to eat the most is chocolate. The person who helped me the most was Tom. The place where the fire started was the kitchen. The reason why it took so long is because of all the traffic.

It is/was ... that ... to emphasise the words between It is/was and that.

It's the piano (that) he's good at, not the violin. Although we tend to use that in spoken English. we may also use which or who.

It's my maths exam which I'm worried about most. It was my brother who gave me the watch - not my

Where and when tend to be used more informally. It was 9 o'clock when we were supposed to meet. It was Spain where I was born, not France.

 What ... is/was ... to emphasise the words after is/was. What I'd like most for dinner is pizza.

Adding emphasis – auxiliary verbs

In present or past simple sentences, we can add emphasis by including the auxiliaries do/does/did to the verb clause. The main verb is used in the infinitive form

Well, that's nonsense. You do look like brothers!

If the main verb is do, do is repeated. I don't do much but I do do the washing up.

In sentences already containing an auxiliary verb, we don't add do, we just stress the auxiliary verb. I am going to/will/wouldn't tell her!

Vocabulary —

1 Personality and behaviour

compassionate • conscientious • distant • manipulative • principled • resilient • selfless • self-serving • spiteful • unruly

(I) 4 2 Expressions with self

 $\textbf{compound nouns:} \ \text{self-deprecation} \ \bullet \ \text{self-doubt} \ \bullet \ \text{self-expression} \ \bullet \ \text{self-indulgence} \ \bullet \ \text{self-preservation}$ phrases: be a shadow of your former self • be full of yourself • be wrapped up in yourself • find yourself • keep yourself to yourself • look yourself • lose yourself in (something) • make yourself at home

1 3 Describing data – synonyms

accurately (adv) - precisely (adv) • difference (n) - distinction (n) • evaluate (v) - assess (v) • record (v) - observe (v) • significant (adj) - important (adj) • slightly (adv) - a little (adv) • stand out from (phr v) - be noticeable among (phr)

Grammar test

Passive constructions

- 1 Decide if the sentences are correct. Rewrite the incorrect sentences.
 - 1 He will be rewarded for his hard work.
 - 2 No one likes telling off in front of their friends.
 - 3 Their presentations must to be completed by
 - 4 We need to find another classroom. This one is being used by someone else.
 - 5 All the items had been hand over to the police following the arrests.
 - 6 It is unusual for young people are given a promotion so auickly.
 - 7 The essays are due to be handed in by Friday.
 - 8 Listen! The results are to be announced as we speak.

Causatives

- 2 Put the words in the correct order to make sentences in the causative form.
 - 1 she / feed / the cats / to / her / got / for / someone
 - 2 the / the / had / repaired / roof / after / we / storm
 - 3 have / repainted / door / the / had / just / we
 - 4 I've / cut / years / having / my / for / here / hair / been
 - 5 my/got/eyes/tested/today/I

/ 5 points

Adding emphasis cleft sentences

- 3 Add emphasis to the underlined parts of these sentences.
 - 1 The dog ate your dinner.
 - 2 My teacher told me to come to your office.
 - 3 I read a book before I go to sleep.
 - 4 We went to the shop to get some

/ 4 points

Adding emphasis auxiliary verbs

- 4 Look at the conversations. Add emphasis to B's responses using do/does/did.
 - 1 A: Joaquín is always on time to class
 - B: Well, he lives opposite the college.
- 2 A: I wish we had done more preparation.
- B: We did as much as we could.
- 3 A: Why don't you like my new coat?
- R: Llike it!

/ 3 points

Vocabulary test =

Personality and behaviour

1 Write definitions or explanations for the words in the box.

compassionate • manipulative • resilient • selfless

/ 4 points

Expressions with self

- 2 Complete each phrase with a preposition.
 - 1 lose yourselfsomething
 - 2 be fullyourself 3 be a shadowyour former self
- 4 be wrapped in vourself
- 5 make yourself.
- 6 keep yourselfvourself
- 3 Complete the sentences with an expression with self.
 - 1 He's got so muchhe doesn't believe he can do the job at all.
 - 2 She has very low What can we can do to boost her confidence?
 - 4 She ate all the cake, even though she knew it was
 - 5 I think that businessman is entirelyand only cares about himself

/ 11 points

Describing data - synonyms

4 Give synonyms for these words and phrases.

3 Art and dance are both popular forms of ...

accurately • evaluate • significant • slightly • stand out from

/ 5 points

/ 40 points

Total:

yourse