

In the Jungle

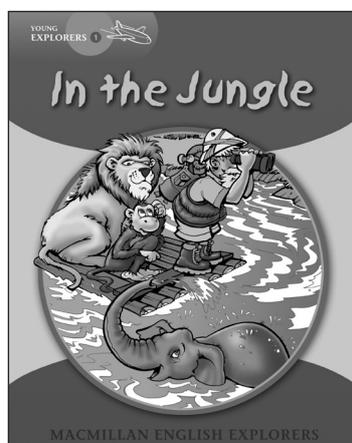

The story

Professor Green decides to go to the jungle to see some animals. He takes his parrot with him. When they arrive in the jungle, the professor makes a wooden raft so that he can go down the river. While they are floating along, his parrot flies off into the jungle. The professor tries to find his parrot. He is followed by two hungry crocodiles. He meets a monkey and he asks if it has seen his parrot. The monkey hasn't seen the parrot but offers to help look for it. The monkey gets on the raft with the professor. Next a lion offers to help, and it joins them on the raft. Finally they meet an elephant who also offers to help. Unfortunately when the elephant gets on the raft they all fall into the river. The hungry crocodiles get ready for their dinner! Professor Green's parrot sees the professor and the animals in the water and comes to the rescue with five other parrots. They lift the professor and the animals out of the river. The Professor and all the other animals celebrate with a picnic.

Introduce the book

The cover

- Hold up the book and point to the cover. Read the title to the class. Read it again and encourage the children to repeat after you.

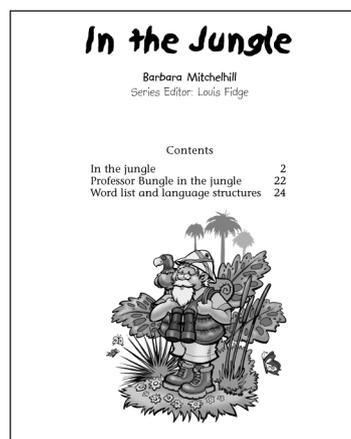

- Point to the picture on the cover. Point to Professor Green and ask Where is he? and elicit from the children that he is in the jungle. Point to the title again and encourage the children to repeat it after you. Ask What is he wearing? What is he looking for? What is he on? What animals can you see? Why are they there? and elicit suggestions from the class. Then ask What animal is in the river? What is it doing?
- Ask What is the book about? and elicit suggestions from the class. Talk about the jungle and how it can be dangerous.
- Tell the children to look at the picture. Ask Is it the same man who is on the cover? Where is he? What is he wearing? Point to the binoculars and ask What are these for? Then ask What is sitting on his shoulder? Why is it on his shoulder? Does the parrot live in the jungle? What animals live in the jungle?

In the Jungle

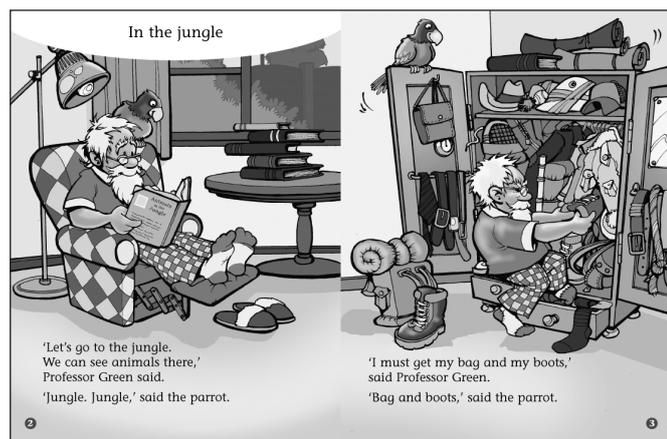

The story can be played at any time.

The contents page

- Tell the children to open their books to the contents page. Open your own book and hold it up to show the class.
- Read the title again and encourage the children to read it with you. Ask Who wrote the story? Who is the author? and encourage the children to point to her name.
- Point to the word Contents and the contents list. Elicit from the children what it tells them about the book (what is in it and on what page). Read the title of the story (In the Jungle). Elicit from the children what page it is on.

Materials

a pair of boots, a picture of a parrot
a book, a pen, a ball, a bag, a biscuit, a toy car

Before reading

- Before looking at the pages, teach the name Professor Green. Write it on the board. Hold up the cover again and tell the children that this is the name of the man. Say the name and encourage the children to repeat it after you. Remind the children that we use capital letters at the beginning of people's names. Then ask What colour word can you see?

- Ask What is a professor? If necessary explain that it is someone who works in a university and who studies things. Point to the word professor and say What letters are the same? Are two letters the same and next to each other? Repeat the questions for green.

- Teach parrot and boots. Hold up the picture of the parrot and ask What bird can you see? The children might remember the name from earlier books in the English Explorers series. Write parrot on the board and encourage the children to repeat it after you.

- Hold up the boots and say boots. Encourage the children to repeat the word after you. Write boots on the board.

- Make sure the children remember what a jungle is from the cover. Write the word on the board and ask them to read it.

- Point to the word parrot and say What letters are the same? Are two letters the same and next to each other? Repeat the questions for boots.

- Tell the children to open their books to pages 2 and 3. Open your own book and hold it up to show the class.

- Tell the children to look at the picture on page 2. Ask Who can you see? Is he at home or in the jungle? What room is he in? What is the professor doing? What is looking at the book with him? Explain to the children that the parrot is his pet. Then ask What is the professor wearing? What is he wearing on his feet? Can you see his slippers? How many books can you see? Where are they? Are they tidy?

- Tell the children to look at the picture on page 3. Ask Where is the professor now? What can you see in the cupboard? Is the cupboard tidy? What can you see on the floor? (a boot and a bag) What is he getting out of the cupboard? (the other boot) What is on the top of the bag? Where is the parrot? Then ask Why does the professor need the bag and the boots? Where is he going?

During reading

- Read the title again.
- Read the text on both pages to the class slowly and clearly. Read the pages again pointing to each word as you read it. If you wish, use a different voice for the professor and the parrot.
- Ask Can you see the word jungle? Can you see the words Professor Green? Can you see the word parrot? Can you see the word boots?
- Read the text again and encourage the children to repeat each sentence after you.
- Read both pages again together as a class.
- Invite three children to be the narrator, Professor Green and the parrot. They can read both pages out loud.
- Read page 2 to the class again. Say the following sentences and encourage the children to complete them:
*'Let's go to the
We can see ... there,' ... said.
'... ,' said the*
- Read page 3 to the class again. Say the following sentences and encourage the children to complete them:
*'I must get my ... and my ... ,' said
'... and ... ,' said the*

After reading

- Write Let's go to the jungle. We can see animals there. on the board. Ask the class to read it. Rub out jungle and write in zoo. Encourage the children to read the new sentences. Then rub out zoo and write in toy shop. Ask the children to read the new sentences and ask Is it OK? Elicit from the children the other word you need to change and rub out animals and write in toys. Continue replacing jungle with other words, e.g. bakery, cinema, park etc. and elicit what change is needed each time.
- Write I must get my bag and boots. on the board. Ask the class to read it. Ask Which words start with /b/? Put a book and a pen on your table. Rub out bag and boots in the sentence and write in book and pen. Ask a child to read the new sentence and encourage them to come and take the book and the pen. Continue the activity using the other objects and different children.
- Write bag on the board. Ask the children to read it. Then say each individual sound in the word (/b/ /æ/ /g/) to show the children how to read and pronounce simple CVC words. Repeat each sound then say the word /bæg/ encouraging the children to repeat after you. Rub out the g and write in an d. Encourage the children to read the new word. Then rub out the b and write in a s and ask the children to read it (sad). Then rub out the s and write in an h and ask the children to read it (had).
- Say Find a word with five letters that starts with /g/. Encourage the children to read it (green). Repeat the activity for: /m/ /æ/ /p/ /s/ /dʒ/ /k/. Where there are two words for one letter, encourage the children to read both words.
- Say Find the word see. What words sound the same? and elicit the words from the children (tree, bee, three).
- Ask Where will the Professor go? Will the parrot go with him? What will he wear? What will he take?

- Put the children into pairs. Tell one to look at page 12. Say Find and point to Hello lion. Can you see my parrot? Then tell the other child to look at page 9 and ask them to find and point to the sentence with the same words in it. Ask What word is different? Repeat the activity with No, I can't. But I can help you look for it. on pages 12 and 9 (they are the same).

- Say the following sentences and encourage the children to complete them:
'... , lion. Can you ... my parrot?' said Professor Green.
'No, I But I can ... you look for it,' said the lion.
The lion ... onto the raft.
Then Professor Green, the ... and the ... went ... the river.
- Then say Find and point to the word lion. How many can you see?. Repeat the question for the.
- Point to different words at random and ask the children what they say. Then read both pages together as a class.

After reading

- Write Can you see my parrot? on the board and ask the class to read it. Ask Is it a question? How do you know?
 - Underneath write the two possible answers Yes, I can. and No, I can't. and ask the class to read them. Put one of the objects you have brought into class with you on your desk. Rub out parrot and write in the name of the object. Ask the class to read the new question, point to the object and read the correct answer. Now put the object away, ask the children to read the question again and choose the correct answer. Continue the activity with the other objects.
 - Ask a child to leave the room or cover their eyes and then hide one of the objects, e.g. a bag. Invite the child back in and ask Can you see my bag? Help the child to say No I can't, But I can help you look for it. The child then has to look for the object. Encourage the other children to say Hot! when the child is near the object, and Cold! when the child is far away.
- Play I can ... . You start the game by saying I can speak English. Go round the class one at a time asking What can you do? Each child must try and offer an answer, e.g. I can jump., I can read. etc. The first child who cannot answer breaks the chain and you have to start again. Try to encourage them to say something different from the other children.
 - Write the letter c on the board. Say Look at pages 12 and 13. Find a word that starts with the letter c. Continue with other letters and give the final letter of a word, too. You can make this into a team game if you wish. Divide the class into small teams and the first team to find the word and say it correctly wins a point.
 - There are a range of facial expressions on pages 12 and 13. Facial expressions tell us a lot about feelings. Practise different expressions with the children, showing different emotions, e.g. happy, sad, angry, scared, bored, surprised etc.
 - Ask What will happen next? Will the lion eat Professor Green? What will the crocodiles do? Will Professor Green find the parrot?

Pages 14 and 15

- Tell the children to open their books to pages 14 and 15. Open your own book and hold it up to show the class.
- Tell the children to look at the picture. Ask Where is the lion? What is the professor talking to? (an elephant) Where is the elephant? (in the river) What is the elephant doing? (washing) Can you see the crocodiles? Can you see the parrot? What is the professor saying to the elephant?

During reading

- Read the text on both pages to the class slowly and clearly. Make appropriate gestures as you read Hello and No, I can't to help the children understand.
- Read the pages again pointing to each word as you read it. If you wish, use a different voice for the professor and the elephant.
- NB You may wish to read the text with the children before this stage as it follows the same pattern as the text on pages 9, 10, 11, 12 and 13.
- Ask Can you see the word elephant? How many can you see?
- Read the text again and encourage the children to repeat each sentence after you.
- Elicit from the children that can't means cannot.
- Read both pages again together as a class.
- Invite three children to be the narrator, Professor Green and the elephant. They can read both pages out loud.

Materials

picture of an elephant
an enlarged picture of a parrot

Before reading

- Before looking at the pages, teach the word elephant. Hold up the picture and say elephant. Pretend to have a trunk and then say elephant again. Write it on the board and encourage the children to repeat it after you. Ask Are elephants big or small? Are elephants' noses long or short?

- Put the children into pairs. Tell one to look at page 15. Say Find and point to Hello, elephant. Can you see my parrot? Then tell the other one to look at page 12 and ask them to find and point to the sentence with the same words in it. Ask What word is different? Repeat the activity with No, I can't. But I can help you look for it. on pages 15 and 12 (they are the same).
- Say the following sentences and encourage the children to complete them:
Professor Green, the ... and the ... looked for the
They did not see it in the Then they saw an ... in the
'Hello, Can you see my ... ?' said Professor Green.
'No, I But I can ... you ... for it,' said the elephant.
- Ask What question does Professor Green ask?
Ask How do you know it's a question?
- Say Find all the words with three letters. When the children have found them, encourage them to read them out loud (the, and, for, did, not, see, saw, can, you, for).
- Write They saw an elephant in the river. on the board and ask the class to read it. Rub out elephant and write in another animal. Ask the class to read the new sentence. Repeat with different animals.
- Rub out river and write another word, e.g. shop and encourage the children to read the new sentence. Repeat with other places, e.g. school, house, bedroom etc.
- Play some word games with the children. Write did on the board. Ask the children to read it. Then say each individual sound in the word (/d/ /i/ /d/) to show the children how to read and pronounce simple CVC words. Repeat each sound then say the word /did/ encouraging the children to repeat after you. Rub out the i and write in an a. Encourage the children to read the new word. Then rub out the second d and write in a y and ask the children to read it (day). Then rub out the d and write in an s and ask the children to read it (say).
- Write monkey on the board. Ask What is the first letter? What is the last letter? Write the two letters on the board and ask the children to read the word (my).
- Ask What will happen next? What will the elephant do? Why are the crocodiles following the raft? Will they eat the professor and the animals?

After reading

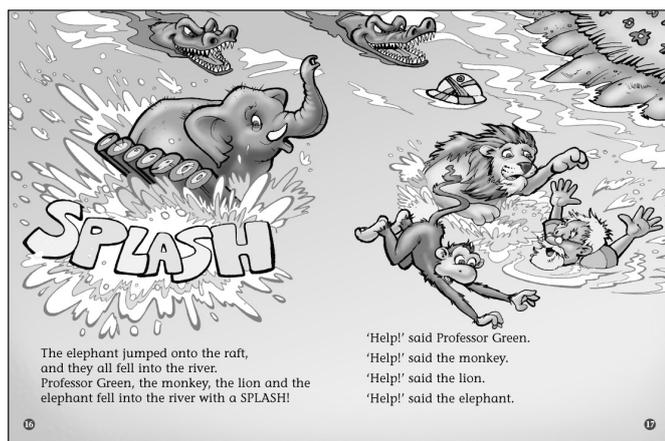

- Before the class come in, put the enlarged picture of the parrot somewhere in the classroom. Don't hide it, but make it quite difficult to find.
- Ask Can you see my parrot? Look around the room like Professor Green. Encourage the children to look too, but tell them not say anything or tell anyone if they can see it. Ask individual children Can you see my parrot? and elicit the response, Yes, I can. or No, I can't. Ask a child who can see it to point to it.

Materials

a heavy object and a bowl of water

Before reading

- Before looking at the pages, teach splash. Drop the heavy object into the bowl of water and make it splash. Then splash the water with your hands. Say splash as you do so. Write the word on the board and ask the children to repeat it after you. Ask What sound does splash end with? What other words end with /ʃ/? (fish, wish, dish).
- Tell the children to open their books to pages 16 and 17. Open your own book and hold it up to show the class.

- Tell the children to look at the picture. Ask Where are Professor Green and the animals? Why? What happened? Why did the raft sink? Why are they scared? What are the crocodiles doing? Have they got sharp teeth? What is Professor Green saying? and elicit suggestions from the children.

During reading

- Read the text on both pages to the class slowly and clearly. Emphasise the word SPLASH! Read the pages again pointing to each word as you read it. If you wish, use a different voice for the characters.
- Ask Can you see the word splash? How many can you see? NB Don't forget the one in the picture.
- Read the text again and encourage the children to repeat each sentence after you.
- Read both pages again together as a class.
- Invite five children to be the narrator, Professor Green, the monkey, the lion and the elephant. They can read both pages out loud.
- Say Look at the picture. What noise did the water make? and encourage the children to say and point to Splash! in the picture. Say Find the word in the story. Talk about why it is written in capital letters in the picture and in the text. If necessary, ask Was it a loud noise?
- Say Find the word help. How many can you see? Talk about the use of exclamation marks after each one. Elicit that these are used to show that the person is expressing strong feelings.
- Ask When do we shout Help!? and elicit some situations from the children.

- Say Find all the words with four letters. When the children have found them, encourage them to read them out loud (onto, raft, they, fell, lion, with, help, said).

After reading

- Invite six children to the front of the class. Give them one wordcard each in random order. Use: The, elephant, jumped, onto, the, raft. Tell them to hold up their wordcards and to face the class. Ask the class to put the children in the correct order to make The elephant jumped onto the raft. When the children are in the correct order, write the sentence on the board.
- Ask Which word is the same? (the). Elicit why the has a capital letter at the beginning of the sentence but not in the middle.
- Rub out elephant and write in lion. Encourage the children to read the new sentence. Repeat the activity with monkey.
- Rub out raft and write in table. Encourage the children to read the new sentence. Repeat with other suitable nouns, e.g. chair, boat.
- Write Professor Green, the monkey, the lion and the elephant fell into the river with a SPLASH! on the board. Point to each word in turn and ask the class to read it. Rub out one of the names at random and ask the children to read the remaining sentence. Repeat until only one name remains. NB Each time use and in the correct place.
- Write all on the board. Add different letters to the beginning and make new words, e.g. b, f, t, w. Repeat with fell and the letters b, t, and sh.
- Ask Can Professor Green and the animals swim? Talk about how important it is to learn to swim.

- Ask Will Professor Green and the animals escape from the crocodiles? What will happen?

Before reading

- Before looking at the pages, teach crocodiles and pulled. Ask What animal followed Professor Green down the river? and elicit crocodile. Then ask How many? Write crocodiles on the board and encourage the children to repeat it after you. Ask What sound does crocodiles start with?
- Write pulled on the board and explain what it means. To demonstrate you could invite a child to the front of the class and pull on their arms. Write pulled on the board and encourage the children to repeat it after you.

- Tell the children to open their books to pages 18 and 19. Open your own book and hold it up to show the class.
- Tell the children to look at the picture on page 18. Ask Are professor Green and the animals still in the river? What are the crocodiles doing? What will the crocodiles do? What animal can you see in the sky? How many can you see? What are they carrying? (rope) What are they looking at?
- Tell the children to look at page 19. Ask What are the parrots doing? How many parrots are lifting the monkey? How many parrots are lifting the elephant? Why do three parrots have to lift the elephant? Who is out of the river? Are they happy? Are the crocodiles happy? Why not?

During reading

- Read the text on both pages to the class slowly and clearly. Make appropriate gestures as you read pulled and pulled to help the children understand.
- Read the pages again pointing to each word as you read it. If you wish, use a different voice for the parrots.
- Ask Can you see the word crocodiles? Can you see the word pulled? How many can you see? Can you see the word the? How many can you see?
- Read the text again and encourage the children to repeat each sentence after you.
- Make sure the children understand out of.
- Read both pages again together as a class.
- Invite two children to be the narrator and the parrot. The rest of the class can be the other parrots. They can read both pages out loud.

- Tell the children to look at page 18. Say the following sentences and encourage the children to complete them:
The ... saw Professor Green.
It saw the ... , the ... and the
And it saw the ... !
The parrot said, '... !'
- Tell the children to look at page 19. Ask Who did the parrots pull out first? Repeat the question for second, third, last.
- Say Find and point to the word and. How many can you see? Repeat the activity with saw.
- Ask the children to find and point to a comma on page 18 and 19. Explain that these tell the reader to take a short pause when reading.

After reading

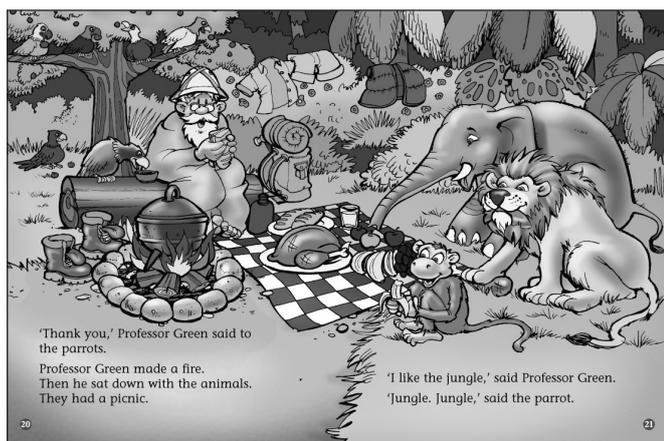

- Invite fifteen children to the front of the class. Give them one wordcard each in random order. Use: They, pulled, Professor, Green, the, monkey, the, lion, and, the, elephant, out, of, the, river. Tell them to hold up their wordcards and to face the class. Ask the class to put the children in the correct order to make They pulled Professor Green, the monkey, the lion and the elephant out of the river. When the children are in the correct order, write the sentence on the board.
- Ask the children holding monkey and lion to change places. Ask the children to read the new sentence and elicit that the meaning has not changed. Then ask the children holding elephant and monkey to change places and read the new sentence again.
- Write out on the board. Ask the children to read it. Add sh to the beginning and encourage the children to read the new word.

Materials

a picture of a camp fire
a picnic blanket and some picnic plates and cups

Before reading

- Before looking at the pages, teach fire and picnic. Hold up the picture of the fire and say fire. Encourage the children to repeat the word after you. Write fire on the board. Ask Is fire hot or cold? Does fire make water hot or cold? Can we cook with fire? What can we cook? Is fire dangerous? Why?

- Lay the picnic blanket over your table and place the picnic things on the top. Say picnic and encourage the children to repeat the word after you. Write picnic on the board. Ask Do we have picnics outside or inside? Do we sit on chairs or on the ground? What food do we eat at picnics? Then ask Do you have picnics? and encourage the children to tell you where and when they have picnics.
- Point to the words on the board. Ask Which word has the sound /ɪk/ in it? How many?
- Tell the children to open their books to pages 20 and 21. Open your own book and hold it up to show the class.
- Tell the children to look at the picture. Ask Where are Professor Green and the animals? Are they safe? What are they doing? What food can you see? What is the monkey eating? What is Professor Green eating? What is the lion eating? What is the elephant taking? What is the professor sitting on? What is he wearing? (a blanket) Why? (he got wet in the river) Where are his clothes? (on the bushes) Why? (they are drying) What is sitting next to him? Where are the parrot's friends? What are they eating? Can you see the fire? Why are there stones around the fire? (to stop the fire spreading).

During reading

- Read the text on both pages to the class slowly and clearly. Read the pages again pointing to each word as you read it. If you wish, use a different voice for Professor Green and the parrot.
- Ask Can you see the word fire? Can you see the word picnic?
- Read the text again and encourage the children to repeat each sentence after you.
- Make sure the children understand sat down.
- Read both pages again together as a class.

- Invite three children to be the narrator, Professor Green and the parrot. They can read both pages out loud.
- Say the following sentences and encourage the children to complete them:
*'... , ' Professor Green said to the Professor Green made a'
 Then he ... with the animals.'
 They had a'
 'I ... the ... , ' said Professor Green.*
- Say Find and point to then and they. What sound do they start with? Which word on page 20 ends with /ð/? (with).
- Tell the children to look at page 20. Ask What did Professor Green say to the parrots? and encourage them to read the text inside the speech marks.

After reading

- Write Professor Green made a fire. on the board and ask the class to read it. Rub out fire. Ask the children to suggest other things he could make, e.g. a cake, a sandwich, a raft etc. and write these in the sentence one at a time. Each time read the new sentence with the class.
- Repeat the activity with They had a picnic., rubbing out picnic.
- Play some word games with the children. Write had on the board. Ask the children to read it. Then say each individual sound in the word (/h/ /æ/ /d/) to show the children how to read and pronounce simple CVC words. Repeat each sound then say the word /hæd/ encouraging the children to repeat after you. Rub out the h and write in a b. Encourage the children to read the new word. Then rub out the d and write in a t and ask the children to read it (bat). Then rub out the b and write in an h and ask the children to read it (hat). Other words to make are sat, sad.

- Ask Why did Professor Green say Thank you to the parrots? When do we say Thank you? Talk about the need to be polite and to thank people for things they do for us.
- Give the children time to read the whole story again with a partner or to read it quietly by themselves.

Wordcard activities

- Do page 46 in the Comprehension and Vocabulary Workbook.

Pages 22 and 23

- Read pages 22 and 23 to and with the class.
- Focus on one verse at a time and ask What words sound the same?
- Point out how the pictures can help the children to work out what the animal words and sounds mean in each verse. Explain that the pictures are in the same order as the words. Read the rhyme again and tell the children to point to the animals in the pictures as you say them.
- Do pages 47 and 48 in the Comprehension and Vocabulary Workbook.

After reading the book

Response to the story

- Ask Did you like the story? Why? Why not? Did you like the end? Why? Why not?

Characters

- Did you like Professor Green? Was he silly to build a raft? Was it dangerous?
- Did you like the parrot? Was it clever? How was it clever? What did it do? (spoke, rescued the professor)

Setting

- Where did the story take place? Elicit both places (Professor Green's house, the jungle).

Plot

- Encourage the class to re-tell the story simply in their own words.

Moral issues

- The story shows us how important it is to have friends – the parrot was the professor's friend.
- It also shows us what we can do if we work together. The parrot's friends worked together and rescued the professor and the animals from the river.

Vocabulary

- Use the Word recognition record sheet to check what sight vocabulary the children have learnt.

Follow-up ideas

Discussion It is important to think ahead and think through the possible consequences of things. For example, the professor should have known that the elephant would be too big and heavy for the raft. They fell into the river because he didn't think about it.

Preparation Talk about getting ready for things, e.g. holidays. The professor packed the things he needed before he left. Ask What did the professor take with him? What else did he need? and elicit other things he may have taken but we didn't see in the story.

Making a raft Make a raft from some lollipop sticks or drinking straws. Lay six down side by side. Stick two flat pieces of strong paper or card in the opposite direction to make a raft. The children could make their own. Experiment with the rafts in a bowl of water. Ask the children to guess if the rafts will float or sink. You could include other objects and ask the children to guess these before you try them in the water.

Jungle frieze Make a jungle animal frieze. Brainstorm with the children animals that live in the jungle. Tell the children to choose one, and draw and colour it. Make a jungle background. You can use some of the pictures in the book for ideas. Cut out the children's animals and stick them on the background.

Thank you card The professor thanked the parrots for saving him and the animals. With the class, design and make thank you cards for the children to take home to their parents.

Parrot mobiles Enlarge a picture of a parrot from the reading book or the Comprehension and Vocabulary Workbook. Make one photocopy for each child and ask the children to colour them in. Hang the parrots from coathangers and make parrot mobiles.

Learning to talk The parrot repeated everything the professor said. Talk about the way babies learn to speak in this way. Ask the children to talk about any babies they know who are learning to speak.
